Power, Interest and Psychology: developing David Smail’s ideas
Thursday 12th November 2015 - Friday 13th November 2015
Novotel Birmingham Centre

Thursday 12th November

9.00    Registration
9.30 - 10.00 Welcome & Introduction to David’s work
10.00 - 10.45 Prof Richard Wilkinson, Inequality: the enemy between us
10.45 - 11.15 Refreshment Break
11.15 - 1.00 Symposia plus Questions and Discussion
  Dr Mark Fisher: It’s not your fault: consciousness raising and the reprivatisation of stress
  Dr Lisa McKenzie: “The rich, the rich, we’ve got to get rid of the rich”
  Dr Jan Bostock: Understanding power in order to share hope
1.00 - 2.00 Lunch
2.00 - 2.05 Psychologists against austerity
2.05 - 2.50 Midlands Psychology Group: IAPT - Interest, Austerity and Psychological Therapy
2.50 - 4.00 Symposia plus Questions and Discussion
  Dr Steve Melluish: Another World is Possible
  Dr Dave Harper: From the individual to the social: The promise (and problems) of a public health approach to distress
4.00 – 4.30 Refreshment Break
4.30 – 5.30 Prof Dave Pilgrim: Necessary ambivalence in the work of David Smail: a critical realist Reflection
7.00    Optional informal buffet (booking required)

Friday 13th November

9.00    Registration
9.30 – 10.15 Prof Kate Morris & Prof Brid Featherstone: Supporting Families: towards a social model of child protection
10.15 – 11.30 Symposia plus Questions and Discussion
  Dr Julia Faulconbridge: Schools, Wellbeing and Clinical Psychology
  Dr Iyabo Fatimilehim: Working across boundaries in services for children, young people and families
  Mac-UK: Co-producing services with excluded young people in the community
11.30 – 12.00 Refreshment Break
12.00 – 1.00 Prof Mary Boyle, The Continuing Dangers of Vulnerability
1.00 – 2.00 Lunch
2.00 – 2.45 Dr Lucy Johnstone, Speaking Our Minds as Clinical Psychologists
2.45 – 3.10 Refreshment Break
3.10 – 3.40 Andre Brühka: Relational Commons: de-commodifying the power of relationships
3.40 - 4.10 Prof Craig Newnes, What Then Must We Do?
4.10    Close